“ It was a nice service

“ To our family, thank you for including those of us that live out of town. I learned so much more about my Aunt Annie, Uncle Eugene and even about my grandmother Rose. Most importantly through the years I suffered with the fear of someone learning my religion and using it to harm me or my family but no more. My aunt taught me through today's services that you cannot fear evil and need to stand up to it. This lesson today has changed who I am and will become in the future. Even in death you have taught me to be strong Aunt Annie, I thank you for that and will forever carry on yours and all of our families legacy with pride. Never Forget... I will miss you.

“ The first memory I have of my Aunt Annie is she swooped into our lives in New York a little blond angel that brought me and my little sister our first Barbie Doll (i was already as tall as her).

Then me moved to Michigan and I was so jealous of my cousin's Barry, Allen, Chuck. even when you were disciplined by her she use to laugh,give you a hug. She was so happy in her world. Smiling laughing even at herself when she pronounced a word wrong or meant a different word. She was an awesome cook. First time I ever had a matzo ball was pesach 1968 and what were their 30 or more people there. The matzo ball was huge fluffy and I'm so sorry I never got the recipe for them as mine are more like rocks.

She was always a righteous woman caring not only for her family but caring for the rights of others in the world ,She made trying to right the evils in the world part of her legacy.

If it wasn't for My Aunt Annie I would not have had a wedding reception,As she helped plan, Did all the cooking for over 200 guests and just kept handing my dad the bills for payment and boy even my dad Oscar knew better than to give her slack,

She had so much Passion and Strength in Her Soul. We were all So Blessed to have her in our lives.

Barry,Allen, Chuck Thanks for sharing the wonderful Woman you Called MOM!ery “ Auntie Annie was an amazing person. I just learned about her passing and was very sad to hear this news. I have nothing but wonderful memories of her as a child. Always kind, sweet, and always a smile. She went out of her way to make others feel welcome in her home and do for others. She was a beautiful person. May memories of her life bring a smile to all who loved her.

“ Ann was always filled with good cheer and a dazzling smile for everyone. We worked together for almost a year on the Witness Theater project, and she was a vibrant part of that story. The teens adored her, because she was filled with laughter and good will, showing them that horror and treachery do not condemn us to a life of bitterness. We all learned so much from Ann. Please accept my sincere condolences and know that she remains in many hearts, especially mine, forever.

Sincerely,
Corinne Stavish

“ Ann was the first person in Witness Theater to make an influential impression on me. I still remember my first journal entry about how I did not think I could have emanated the strength she exhibited in face of such danger. Five years after meeting her, the relationship I formed with her and the other survivors still motivates everything I do with my life. She helped fill a void for me, having lost my survivor grandfather at a young age. She taught me the place of laughter alongside tears, to lift others up even when struggling yourself, and the value of memory. It was a privilege to know her and to carry the memories she shared with us. I am in awe of her lifelong strength and her willingness to share those experiences with others. As Corrine said, she has a place in many hearts, especially mine, as well. May her memory be for a blessing.

To my Dear Family:

I send my condolences to all of you on this day that I mourn with you for the death of your mother, grandmother, and my dear Aunt Annie.

May the memories that you keep of the times spent with her, always bring you peace and joy.

As all of you, I loved her dearly and will remember her forever. She was a wonderful human being – a mensch.

May she finally rest in God's embrace, surrounded by her parents, siblings, aunts, uncles and cousins that were lost in the Holocaust.

Betti Elster

Thoughts, now that you are gone...

My beautiful, beloved Aunt Annie. You are finally at peace and happy, surrounded once more by your family – whom you have missed for so long.

Once the shock of hearing about your death left, I was filled with emotional numbness, and it wasn't until I envisioned you being greeted by my mother and your entire family in heaven, that I broke down in tears.

I have such loving memories of you, dear Aunt Annie. You have been there for us and others always. It is now time for you to rest in peace. To finally forget the earthly atrocities that you suffered during the Holocaust.

I thank God that you and my mother were able to endure the injustices that you did, and with my mother's help, to be able to live "just one more day than the Nazis," so that we could all be here to prove that they could not destroy us all.

We will never forget you Aunt Annie, Uncle Eugene, Uncle Shaunee, my mother Rose and father Oscar. If not for your heroism and determination to begin a new life in America, none of us would be here today.

Your children have now become the Keepers of the Memories, and our children, the next generation to honor your lives and to become your legacy to the world.

You will never be forgotten.

Dear Betti

My name is Danny Schweiger and I am from Manchester in England

My son Toby is having his barmitzvah on Feb 2nd 2019 and as part of finding a deeper meaning for his journey we wanted to twin his barmitzvah with a boy who wasn't so lucky to make it

Most of my family were also taken in the Holocaust

We have been sent the details of Tobi Szobo who lost his life at Auschwitz aged 11

The information mentions his sister Ann who married to become Ann Eisenberg who lived in Farmington Hills in Michigan

I am wondering whether it is the same Ann who you have written your obituary about ???

I would love to get in touch with Ann's children if this is the case to inform them of my Toby twinning with their Uncle Tobi on the big Barmitzvah day on Feb 2nd

My details are

I look forward to hearing from you

“ Ann for about 5 years came to talk to my students about her story in surviving the Holocaust. Ann was a great educator in helping them understand how they should never let anything like this ever happen again.

“ It was with a heavy heart that I learned that my beloved Aunt Annie had passed. I still remember when we little and we would see her we'd call her Antie Antie. I have fond memories of her and Uncle Eugene. Outside they were like steel and inside they were warm and loving. I miss those times, and now I know why they're called the good old days.

Good Bye, my dear sweet Aunt Annie, we all miss you. Truly, your memory is a blessing.
