

MARVIN KOZLOWSKI

April 26, 1920 - October 8, 2020

FAMILY GRAVESIDE SERVICE: FRIDAY 10/09/2020, 1:45 pm, at HEBREW MEMORIAL PARK.

In the early morning hours of Thursday, October 8th, Marvin Kozlowski passed away peacefully, and surrounded by love, in his West Bloomfield home. The most adoring, optimistic and patient man the world has ever known, Marvin sure packed a lot of life into his 100 years on earth. Natives of Radom, Poland, Marvin and his father, Max, spent time in Nazi work camps before boarding a train to their impending death when it approached a stretch of tracks that had been recently bombed by the Allied Forces; their lives were spared. They were the only two members of their family to survive the Holocaust. After the war, Marvin made it to the United States in 1949 and was reunited with Edith London, also a Holocaust survivor, who arrived two years prior. They were married in 1950 and welcomed their first child, Jay, in 1952, eager to rebuild the family they had lost. Four years later, they welcomed their second child, Ruthie, and after another six years, their third and final, Joe. Marvin and Edith worked so hard to give their children the lives they deserved. Marvin's work days started before dawn and he would rarely get home before ten o'clock at night. Edith, with her heart of gold, did all she could to nurture the children, while Marvin provided for the family. Despite having no relevant experience, Marvin got a highly sought-after tailoring job at Sears by speaking with the hiring managers, sharing his story and convincing them that he would not fail. This unwillingness to give up or fail was something that Marvin carried with him until the very end. After 17 years at Sears, Marvin took a big chance by opening up his own store in Bloomfield Hills. The landlord didn't want to rent space to Marvin, but, again, Marvin made too compelling an argument. With Edith in charge of sales and Marvin doing alterations, the couple turned Devon Custom Clothiers into a great success story. The two of them were unstoppable. They spent all this time and effort providing for their kids that they were ultimately able to pay for each of them to attend college and medical school; they also paid for the kids' cars. That was something in which Marvin always took such great pride. Despite all his hard work, Marvin always showered his kids with affection. It's hard to imagine two people loving and caring for their family more than Marvin and Edith. Marvin is survived by his wife, Edith; his children, Jay (the late Linda) (Renee), Ruthie, Joe (Jill); his grandchildren, Rachel, Anna (Bryan), David, Julia, Max, Ben; and great grandchild, Elliot. Words can't express the love and closeness that Marvin and his family shared. The lessons he and Edith have instilled in subsequent generations are so incredibly valued. The last few years were challenging, but Marvin, the consummate survivor--with care from many, including Ruthie, Jay, David and his nurse, Kim, among others--fought until the very end. He fought to spend more time with his family, who loved him so dearly and who will miss him more than can be expressed.

Age 100, of West Bloomfield, died October 08, 2020.

Beloved husband of Edith.

Dear son of the late Max and the late Ryfka Kozlowski.

Devoted father of Joseph (Jill) Kozlowski, Ruthie Kozlowski and Jay (Renee), (the late Linda) Kozlowski.

Proud grandfather of Rachel Kozlowski, Anna (Bryan Sofen) Kozlowski Sofen, David Kozlowski, Julia Kozlowski, Max Kozlowski and Benjamin Kozlowski. Adoring great-grandfather of Elliot Sofen.

Loving son of the late Mordchai Shrageh and the late Finkel Rifka Kozlowski.

Cherished brother to the late Shlomo Kozlowski, and late Fela Kozlowski, late Chayka Kozlowski and late Itka Kozlowski.

“ Where do I begin...For the past 5+ years I've had the pleasure of taking care of Marvin and for that I feel honored. He spent everyday with a smile on his face and optimism in his heart. He exuded strength, courage and adversity. Marvin and I built a special relationship. One that made me feel a part of the family. We lost a special man and will always feel the loss. I will continue to wear my "bobyk" in your honor.

Love Always

“ What makes a hero? There are so many definitions. For me it is progress in the face of fear. Marvin was a man who endured hell and Personified love. I cannot imagine the fear he faced and stood up to. It is courage that we attribute to Medal of Honor recipient or an explorer from times past. I cannot imagine looking at the world and seeing what he saw. He saw it. He engaged it. He carried it. Despite his small stature, he will always be larger than life to me. If you knew him, he was John Wayne, Kirk Douglas, and Woody Strode in one package. He was the toughest of the tough. I'll always be in awe of him.

Marvin was also the kindest man one could meet. He cared about you and he cared about those you loved. He could see humanity when you didn't know it existed. He could see things in you that you didn't know existed. He saw humanity in a way that our inexperienced minds could not. If you met him once, he wished the best for you and all you loved. He understood humanity in a way that I could never imagine. He understood me.

If you knew Marvin, the one thing you knew was he was an American. He was proud as hell of his country and he wouldn't hesitate to tell you so. He would preach love and democracy wherever he went. He's seen the worst and knew, despite our shortcomings, our country was something special. I was never so proud as when I affixed a flag to the outside of his house where he could see it. He loved that flag and all it stood for.

Few things could make me prouder than the fact that Marvin called me a friend. I'm humbled that he thought of me and that he considered me a friend. We actually shared the same birthday. I keep a copy of his memoirs on my desk. Lest we forget. I only hope that my life and the life I lead will honor him, his sacrifices, and his memory.

Thank you Marvin for loving me. I will always honor and love you.

“ I knew Marvin for around ten years I met him and his wife Edith when I started working as the manager of the property where Mr Kozlowski and his wife lived. When I first met Marvin I was imediately moved by his kindness and love he showed everyone around him. I loved talking with him and also loved listening to him singing, his contentment and happiness overtook me and made me feel so good the problems and stress I had in my life just disappeared when I was around Marvin and also made me a better person in my own life. Marvin made this world a better place for us all!!
Love you Marvin. John Nelson

“ We are so sorry for the loss of your dear husband, father, grandfather, and great-grandfather. Jim & I always say about our own dads: when you have the best in the world, it's all that much harder to lose them. Please accept our deepest sympathies, & to you, our dearest Ruthie, we send all the love in our hearts. Know we are with you in Spirit.

“ I have so many wonderful memories of growing up and spending holidays and more with Marvin, Edith, and the whole Kozlowski family! Marvin was such an amazing symbol of survival and so key for the whole Kozlowski-Pinkas-Bowman-Joyrich clan! Thank you, Marvin, for all of the wonderful times and for the inspiration. Love, Lynne (By the way, I have both of these photos, with other family pictures, up on the walls at my house. Hope they bring good memories to everyone else as well!)

Lynne Joyrich - October 12 at 12:04 AM

“ What a life he led! When I was in school, he agreed to let me interview him for a report that I was writing on the Holocaust. He was so forthcoming in telling me his story. Sending love and my deepest condolences to Edith and the entire Kozlowski family. May his memory be a blessing.

“ One of the greatest lessons I learned from Marvin is that "everyday is my birthday." From someone who had suffered unspeakable tragedy this is truly an elegant blueprint for how to live a wonderful life. He did. My love to Edith and all the Kozlowski family.
