It was a beautiful service. I'm grateful it was recorded and that those like my myself who could not attend had the opportunity to get to know Andy a little, and to hear the beautiful eulogies. Sending love.

“ I'm so very sorry for the loss of an incredible soul. Taking care of Andy for 10 years, had been one of the most amazing experiences in my medical career that could've possibly happened. His genuine soul and innocent responses were such highlights to me. His hugs were the warmest and his kisses on the cheek goodnight were something that could never be replaced. He loved his Legos & loved even more when his friends (staff) would participate with him and if he didn't like where you placed it, he'd let you know like the sweet Lego Boss man he was.

Dancing.. oh how he loved dancing. There were many times that we didn't have to ask, if there was music, Andy was up on the floor. We would get a smile and a laugh because it made him happy.

So many beautiful things come to mind about this amazing man.
Rest in peace my sweet, sweet Andrew, until we meet again.
I love you bunches buddy!
