“ Always a smile, a kind word, and a warm heart. I can't belief this. You are one of those people who one expects to be here forever. I so miss the monthly dinners. God bless you. So proud to have known you.

“ I remember calling my Bubby everyday on my way home from work. I would talk to her and laugh about all the crazies. Whenever we would hang up on the phone we would say “I love you” 3 times before finally hanging up. My Bubs was my best friend. She helped me move up to college, watched me graduate three times and was able to witness me getting my masters degree and start my first professional job. There are so many more memories I have with her, but they're just for me and her. I love you Bubby, May your Neshema have an Aliyah in heaven.

We became friends as the grandmother's at Sari and Aaron's wedding. We enjoyed each others company and had monthly lunches since and talked on the phone often. She never complained about her illness and was a very sweet person. I shall miss her.
