If Those who leave us behind on the eve of Shabbat enjoy special merit (z'chus), what can be said about a woman who ascends on the eve of the Days of Awe? A woman who spent her life nurturing the souls of her children and grandchildren and, more recently, great grandchildren, filling them with love of Jewish tradition. Her accomplishments speak for themselves. Words are superfluous. Another generation which did her job. Eyshet chayil.

So fortunate to have known both Barbara and Sherrie when we volunteered at Borman Hall (with Danny & Danniell) Two wonderful women with amazing children, loving family whose merit will last unto the generations. Min Hashamyamin Tanachamu

“ Barbara and I first met when we were on committees together some 30 yrs ago at B'nai David synagogue. She hosted meetings at her home where I learned of her welcoming warmth. She was smart and knew how to get things done. Our paths crossed again when her daughter Sheri, of blessed memory, was very sick. I witnessed the strength in Barbara and hoped that I could be as strong as her in a crisis situation. Later, when my nephew was diagnosed with Cystic Fibrosis, the same disease her daughter Sheri died from, Barbara and Larry were very supportive and understanding, and always asked how my nephew was doing. I will miss Barbara's warmth and her great smile. With heartfelt condolences to Larry and the entire family, Ruth Kwaselow

“ My beautiful and loving sister Barbara had a special saying about me being her much older brother making her the youngest in the family. Barbara, I love you sister. The memories of Barbara will live with me for a lifetime from the Birthday parties to our babysitting with Sheri (RIP) and Steve.

“ Karl and I send out heartfelt sympathy for the loss of Barbara. As the photo shows, she was a beautiful person inside and out. I can vividly remember her wedding to Larry. My father and I attended. It was a beautiful and festive event. Fond memories. Love, Harriet Gindin Schreiner
