“ I had the privilege of knowing Mr. Baruch Elbaum for many years through the Program for Holocaust Survivors and Families. Mr. Elbaum was a man of strength who was a great defender of the Jewish people and the State of Israel. Mr. Elbaum was a generous man who always helped those who were hungry or who were in need. He was very proud of his educational background in Lublin, Poland where we studied with the renown, Rabbi Shapiro, the founder of the Daf Yomi movement. Whenever I would visit him, he had Rabbi Shapiro's books nearby and talked about how proud he was to have been one of his students at the famous Lublin Yeshiva. His brother, Gedale and he were very special men who survived the Holocaust. Baruch lived to 101 and leaves behind a legacy of heroism, strength, and Jewish scholarship. We miss him and his legacy.

“ Mr. Elbaum was a favorite patient of my husband's for many years. In spite of his troubles, he always brought fun and cheer to the staff and my husband when he visited the office.

Mr. Elbaum housed a golden and unusual soul of a past era whose rich and scholarly historical beacon of light continues to shine upon us until this very day.

Mr. Elbaum was in turn blessed to be treated and looked after by the reputable Dr. Lewis Rosenbaum, a top physician with the warmest heart and most healing bed-side manor.

Dr. Lewis and Leslye, what an incredible fortune for our community to have you provide such high quality tender medical care.

Shanah tova.

How honorable and humbling it was personally to have known and been at the bedside of Mr. Elbaum and the final heartfelt eulogy I was able to offer at Mr. Elbaum's funeral service.

May Mr. Elbaum obm return to his elite celestial Yeshiva (Torah study hall) and join shoulder's once again with all his giant Torah study partners and admirers of the well-known Yeshivat Chachmei Lublin.
