“Brian Scott always inspired me, in many large and small ways. He inspired me to write and to study, to never stop learning and creating and to never want to stop. He introduced me to media and concepts I may have otherwise never heard of. We had many engaging conversations about history, culture, and language. His sense of humor was so specific to him and so lovely, he could always find a way to make me laugh. He even found a way to gently encourage me away from filler words that always made me chuckle- every time I began a statement with “but, um”, he’d softly interject “bum”. It was silly, but it brought a smile to my face and honestly worked. No matter how much time had passed since we’d last spoken, we could always pick right back up, and even if it had been months, it would have only felt like a number of days. I’ll think of him every time I study another language, and whenever I read the books he was so kind as to gift me. He was truly a masterpiece of a human being, and I’ll miss him dearly. May his memory be a blessing.”

“ I met Brianscott at Eastern Michigan University. He was an amazing friend. We stayed up late many times just talking about things- school, friends, life. I always enjoyed spending time with him- have meals together at the cafeteria, spending time together on retreats, activities at Holy Trinity. He also acted as my protector sometimes, making sure that I got to my destination safely. We kept in touch for awhile after I graduated. We lost touch, then re-connected on FaceBook. I will miss him. My condolences to his family and friends. Rest easy, my friend!

“ BrianScott was a great cousin, I remember all the walks and late night talk we had and the advice he gave me. He also helped me to escape a abusive relationship. He showed me that he loved me when I didn't feel it anywhere else. I love you and will miss you cuz.

“ Sorry to hear of Brianscott's passing. I remember his gentle and thoughtful demeanor when he joined us many a time for Torah study on Shabbat morning. Eventually I hope his memory will be a comfort to the family, for he made this a better world.
