“ To Celia's family: I'm so very sorry for your loss. I worked for your mom at Lulu's Southfield location when I was 16. I still remember her generous and hearty laughter the first time a customer pulled up her shirt to ask if we still carried her bra, as a teenaged me flushed with embarrassment. She was a kind boss who told great jokes and taught me a lot. May she rest in peace and tranquility.

“ My heart felt condolences to Sam and Ivan. I sold bras to your mom for years. She would take me and my girlfriends to lunch and guide us on men. Ha ha I loved her! She invited me to walking tours in NYC during market weeks. Told me I looked like infamous lady portraits in galleries. She always talked about Sam and Ivan getting married!

I loved how she went to law school but her career was bras. XOX love to you!

“ *Dear Celia's family
Very sincere condolences to all.
Va Bien was a brand you bought for years Celia. We loved welcoming you every NY market. It was like family. You gave us a lot of business over the years and we were always grateful for it. You always said you wanted to come to Puerto Rico to enjoy the shallow pools along the shore but you never got to do it.
Jackie always gave us news after the store closed and she would share the latest meet she had and how much she enjoyed it.
Dear Celia, we will never forget you.

“ Celia was an amazing, wonderful lady. I vividly remember our conversations about the local soup I'd buy for lunch when I worked at Bra World. She was always of the opinion that homemade was best. I enjoyed listening to her talk about her adventures in Ireland, and recall when she brought us tangerines from Sam's trees. Though I'm not completely sure, I believe it was she that asked Ted to talk with me about acting. I will be forever grateful for the opportunities she gave me, and the memories we made. My thoughts are with Larry and his family during this difficult time.

Most Sincerely,

“ To Leonard, Andrea, Stuart, Sander, Rose and all of Celia's family - I am very sorry for your loss. Celia was a very special person who taught me a lot in the short time I was lucky enough to spend with her. I am so grateful for having the opportunity to get to know this wonderful woman. She will be greatly missed.

With love,
