“ I don't have a single memory to share about Dan. There were many. Every time we got together with him and your mom, and sometimes you boys, we made memories. Your father was so smart and always kind. We had discussions that would last for hours, well into the the early morning, sometimes. Dan was intellectual about what he was passionate about. We had discussions about many things over the years. We didn't always agree, but we discussed. My dog Charlie always traveled wih me. Your dad would feed him whatever we were eating. I think my dog learned to like cabbage at your house, because if your dad. 😊 I enjoyed his company , your Mom, and the family. Keep the photos. The memories, and the love of your father. ♡ Shirley Ann Walker

I remember Charlie well, and the thought of my Dad, who always maintained that he did not want any animals, feeding him at dinner warms my heart!!

Most of my memories of Dan were when I was in High School and learning about Jewish history and religion. I always appreciated his quiet and inquisitive demeanor. He was both teacher and student... and certainly inspired me to explore the deeper things in life. I wish him and you all much peace and many blessed memories.
