My mom was one of a kind! We argued find me one mother and daughter that didn't argue. At the end of the day she was my best friend!! I was her only caregiver and it was literally the hardest Jon in the world! But you know what? It was absolutely the biggest honor of my life!! I held her hand when she took her last breath as I told her how much I love her! I see her in every room of this house which I love! My mom and I would joke around with each other, the absolute stupidest crap would get us going and she'd start hitting my arm because well not sure why! I think she wanted me to stop making her laugh! Every time she was almost done laughing I'd look at her and she'd bust out laughing again. That's the mom I want to remember! She wasn't perfect no one is! She was a single mother with 2 kids and she busted her butt to know where we were, who we were with. She worked 40 hours a week came home made dinner made sure all was good and she'd wake up and do it all over! I love you mom! I'm so glad you are not in any discomfort anymore and I hope you are with your parents, family and friends! I love you!!

“ My mom was kind, loving, warm, friendly I could go on and on. She was a great mom! She and I needed to be in a padded room at times because if anyone else heard us we'd be locked up for laughing too much! I'd say something that I did not realize was as funny as she took it and she'd cry from laughing so hard! This was a daily thing until about 18-20 mths ago when the dementia started getting worse. I was her only caregiver so all I've done for that time is taking care of her and I'd have to watch her get worse daily. It broke and still breaks my heart! She was a lovely person and your loss if you didn't have her in your life! Mom, I'm glad you are no longer in pain! I hope you are with your parents and all your relatives and friends! Keep your promise to me and come see me when you get a chance! I love you forever! I miss you so much I can't put words to it!
