“ When I came to Wayne State for my job interview in winter of 1980, Dave was tasked with showing my wife and me around Detroit on Saturday. When Saturday morning arrived, we were in the midst of a terrible blizzard. Dave braved the weather, coming to the hotel to pick us up, and explained that it really wouldn't be possible to do much of a tour, so if it was okay with us, he would just take us to his house. He and Julie entertained us all day, talking about common interests in photography and mathematics and culture, and fed us. In the evening we listened to A Prairie Home Companion together. I took the job. He was always a good and valued colleague.

“ Andrea Werechson: Though more recent another story that I always shared with people. His speech at Tsofia's Bat Mitzvah. "Now I have a math question. Don't worry- there won't be a test on this. Today I am 6 times older than Tsofia. In 8 years I will be 4 times older than Tsofia. Is she getting older or am I getting older. He almost got to the  $\times 4$  stage. We'll all miss him

“ Andrea Werechson: My most special memory/ story with him. I was 5 years old and he came to stay with our family for several days before going to study for his PHD. He wanted to bond with me but he was the first person I had ever seen with a beard and whenever he close to me, I ran away and started screaming. All efforts to calm me down didn't work. The day before he was going to leave he went and shaved off his beard just because he couldn't bare to have his niece be scared of him. Think that story says so much re who he was

“ When David was in Junior High School (right across from where we lived), my mother would have him come up for lunch with us a few times a week.

I was very glad to see David when Matan had his Bar Mitzvah in Israel. He was very interested in how his first cousin were doing.
