“ As a mother with two daughters at Wayne State, I read this and was heart broken. My God be with you and comfort you.

“ I met David my first year at Wayne state. I’m not sure how we ended up meeting but I’m happy I had the opportunity to know such a kind hearted person. David always went out of his way to say hello whenever we would run into each other. He always had a joke to share or an interesting fact, and he was truly a really fun and genuine, purehearted soul. Hearing of his passing is really heartbreaking... as this is someone who was one of the first few people I met at Wayne state, and no matter what, anytime I saw him he always had on a smile. I wish I could’ve been able to let David know how much his jokes and smiles meant. I pray David is at peace. Condolences to his family. He was a really wonderful person. I’m lucky to have met him.

“ The first time I met David, we were both starting out in the same dorm in our first year. I really didn’t know anybody and considered him as one of my first college friends. We laugh during lunch at Towers where he would quote one of his puns, got in touch after I graduated and always after we called it the day he’d tell me to “watch out for snakes”. I would always cringe at those puns, but now I really appreciate them cause it was in those times I really cherished being at Wayne State. Just being around David made me wanna get out more and meet new people. Call him a driving force or whatever you call it, he was a good friend and light to anyone’s day.
