I first met Don in 2000 while working at The Fishman Group, a remarkable law firm that he and Steve Fishman molded together. Don was an excellent attorney, his sharp mind, hard work and compassionate ways were always in the forefront of any endeavor. Steve and Don worked very hard, hand in hand to assure the firm's long success. As a Bodman attorney, his integrity, experience and kindness towards others did not go unnoticed. He will be greatly missed. Love and peace to all his family and friends during this time of transition. Darlene Grablowski

*I met Don in first grade.
We were pals.
Later my office window looked out on his office window across the way.
We'd often smile and waive to each other as a reminder of how quickly the years ran away.
You were a good man Don.

Don was not only our attorney but felt that we could call him our friend. We used Don for over 20 years as our counsel and cannot say enough about his steadfast commitment to his clients. We were blessed to know him.... Peace and Hugs to his family and friends.
