“ Ethel was babysitting me the day that John F Kennedy was shot. She was devastated. I didn't understand what was going on, as I was very young. She told me that he was making a difference when it came to people with disabilities. He was going to change the way she lived, but even more importantly, he was changing the lives of Americans with disabilities and they would be treated differently, with dignity and equally. Our conversation that day changed my life and influenced me to get my degree in Special Education. I went on to have a 28 years career in Special Education, getting a Master's Degree in Learning Disabilities.
