“ MY mother, Katherine Sattler was sad that she did not know of Eva's passing. I remember listening to her story about her Holocaust experience once in Ann Arbor and remember sitting with her , Lola, Elizabeth, Zolie, and my mother at Lolas birthday party and Shiva. I am so sorry to hear of your mother's passing. She was a happy and beautiful woman. Janis/ Katherine Sattler

“ Eva may be, as my son Zach said to me tonight, the strongest woman we have ever known. Her life was a testament to strength and goodness despite the horror of her younger years. And what a storyteller! I wish I had known her better, I regret I will not see her again. My condolences to the family

She was the very best teacher one could be so lucky to have had .. and I had the incredible good fortune to have been one of her students (likely not her best student) but in ways not so small she changed my life and challenged me to become the best I can be .. (also not always successful) wow.. what an amazing woman and mentor .. so lucky to have had her light in my life ❤️

Sorry to discover her passing but what a life!! It's 2022 and I'm now living in Germany and she often pops into my mind - that sharp look she could give one but if you weren't too afraid you'd see that there was a playful gorgeous spark slightly hidden within.. 🙏

Thank you Eva that you touched my life ❤️

“ The nicest of women. She made a strudel with confectioners sugar sprinkled on top that was directly from the Garden of Eden that she would bring as a gift that was as sweet as she was. She will be missed and may her memory be a blessing. BDE
