“ I worked with Harvey for several years in the contract monitoring unit of the Detroit Community and Economic Development Department. That was a job we learned together. Harvey became an expert at clearing audit findings, something he was very proud of. He saved a substantial amount of money with his know-how. He also assisted with implementing the Empowerment Zone. Until recently I had been in phone contact with Harvey. One thing he truly wanted was to be remembered for his accomplishments. He also loved Mozart and had a passion for good films. So I say: A life job well done Harvey. My condolences to his family.

“ Sometime in the late 1970's, Harvey was the staff person assigned to "show me the ropes" as a new relocation worker at the City of Detroit Community and Economic Development Department's Virginia Park Relocation office. Initially, I didn't know what to think of this, pony-tailed, Oldsmobile 98 driving fellow, who would eventually speak of going to New York to get haircuts. I did however quickly learn to appreciate his knowledge, willingness to share, and sense of humor. As the years passed, and Harvey received promotions from the City, he became the department's go-to person for interpreting the Code of Federal Relations under which we operated.

I feel very fortunate to have run into Harvey several years ago at a restaurant that he frequented, and subsequently engaged with him in several phone conversations.

Rest in Peace Harvey.

“ Harvey and I were very good friends for quite a while. Winterhalter Elementary School? We shared a hobby of magic and tried to perform as the Mystic Duo. I believe he lived on N. Martindale and I lived on Leslie. I remember well his parents and sister. Wish we could of had contact more recently. Harvey, rest in piece. "Zichronam Llivracha" Gil Mayor

“ Harvey was my neighbor and I really only got to know Harvey better this past year or 2. He and I had some wonderful conversations. He was having many health issues. Harvey's next door neighbor Krissy and I tried to get him help so many times. As I walk by his condo now, I still look to see if he needs anything. I am glad he is at peace now.

“ It was such a special time when cousin Harvey came to Brooklyn to visit us!!! we went to the CITY to special places! He would excite our minds with stories of family and things he did for the underprivileged where he lived!! A kind, special person in our lives at a time when we needed it!! Say hi to THE FAMILY!!

“ As I remember Harvey as a very bright and handsome young man he was always very interested in hearing about family and he was very dedicated to the underserved community. Unfortunately as time passed we did not have as much contact and although we were cousins we did not keep in contact and time has passed. I hope that Harvey rest in peace and is rejoined with the rest of the family...
