“ Hersh was my youngest uncle. I remember him as a goofy teenager and also when his tiny convertible was comically packed for his honeymoon in the Catskills. He was loving and bright. He was justly proud of his work in Jewish charity, fundraising for Israel. He will be greatly missed.

“ Uncle Hershell was very close with my grandmother, who loved him deeply. He emanated kindness and caring. He was funny, albeit with a corny sense of humor. I am grateful for the time I was able to spend with Uncle Hershell.

“ I only knew Hershell "in passing" in and around the community. He had no airs about him. In the words of the Talmud, he was "tocho k'varo" - what he felt inside, was what he projected outwardly . I was aware that shortly before his late brother Sid passed away, Sid was eager to go and visit Hershell - but it didn't work out. Instead, Hershell has now gone to visit Sid, and now all three brothers are catching up on what each missed in the others' lives. T'hey Zichrom Boruch. May all of the bereaved family members be comforted by the Al-Mighty amongst the mourners of Zion and Jerusalem.

“ A mensch. A good Jew. His presence was a blessing. As will be his memory.

“ I worked for Hershell at Israel Bonds back in 1988. He a tough boss, committed to the cause of building Israel. I met a lot of fascinating folks working at Bonds. This experience helped to deepen my commitment to Israel and the building up of the State. I learned a lot about myself and the fund raising business.
