There are no words to express how much we will miss our Cricket.

Life is a journey.

Death is a return to earth.

The universe is like an inn.

The passing years are like dust...peace and serenity.

“ I will always look back and appreciate my memories with Howard his great sense of humor, quick wit, our love of the same music, his appetite for reading and watching tennis, the incredible talent he had for photography, our "bro hugs" whenever I would see him, his often brutal honesty, that great hair that even Elvis would admire, his loyalty as a husband, but more than anything his resiliency. Thanks for being my brother in law Rest In Peace

“ This goes back decades now.... Suzanne was one of the 7 of us in 1993 chosen to experience a special study abroad Summer “Wayne at Gordes”. She would speak of Howard that Summer as she had already been working at the jewelry store. I think she was trying to tell us all the reasons she could never go on a date with him, but that Summer changed all of us. It was magical, it was enlightening.... we pursued our lives back in Detroit with new found careless abandon, new hopes, new dreams, new loves❤️. Luckily for Howard, Suzanne fell in love. Howard had to endure the silly antics of the Amazon girls and all our teasing and obnoxious fun loving ways!! We would call him HO HO Howard and he just took it all in stride knowing that it was worth all the friendship nonsense of us giggling girls to have his Suzanne... she was ready to be his wife (the rest of us still had some wild oats to sow) So, they married in dreamy Hawaii and we all celebrated back home. Life happened for 20 more years.... careers, children, birthdays, anniversaries, illnesses, losses... Howard got to go to Gordes and share many fun travels with Suzanne. I last saw him at the DTW airport by random chance while he and Suzanne were departing to catch a cruise. I was in awe of his resilience, their love and companionship. And, Suzanne made me laugh which is the true indication of a good friend 😊 I'm sure she made Howard laugh much during their marriage and can only imagine how much she will miss being with him. You were one of a kind Howard!! I will lovingly remember the Howard & Suzanne duo! God bless you...
