“ My Dearest Friend, my Hero, My Geri-and Murry-i cannot express my shock at your text to me, as I am beyond heartbroken for the loss of your first born son. When last we we on touch, all had gone well, you were back home and waiting the next day arrival of Jeffrey. You said all went well, and Jeffrey was coming to your home to recover, in the loving arms of his amazing Mom, my dearest Geri. My words will be as dust in the wind, so I will say only this/my love for you is unconditional and forever. You and Murry have worried so about Jeffrey, and it seemed you had jumped yet another hurdle. My heart breaks for you and Murry. No finer and more righteous parents exist. That is my heart and soul speaking-as there are no words. Jeffrey fought for so long, and Mom was always there to comfort and reassure your son. How blessed he was to have you. I will not give you platitudes-because they are empty words. I will say that I know you will forever be changed. A piece of my heart is gone, for you are grieving, I give that piece to you with all my love. You are his Mother. Jeffrey is your Son. That is forever. Life is not fair, as we know. If I could take just a tiny bit of sorrow from you, I would do so, with all my love, but I cannot. A Mother's grief for her child is indescribable. You are so loved. You are so cherished. I pray in some way that Peace will come to you. May the wings of Angels have carried Jeffrey to his Rest. Donna

“ I will miss my nephew Jeffrey more than I can imagine. I also was given the honor, when he was born to be his godmother. All the difficulties he went through with his physical health, he was always so upbeat and funloving. There was never a dull moment when being with my handsome, awesome Jeffrey. Every year on Jan. 13th I never failed to call him from California to tell him "happy birthday from your godmother aunt Rena. I will never stop missing him in my lifetime. I love him so much. Love, Auntie Rena

“ Jeff and I first met at a wrap party for "Gran Torino" and we became fast and loyal friends shortly thereafter. He was a man of his word and an extremely knowledgeable figure in the entertainment industry, but most of all, he was my dear friend, and his unexpected passing leaves a hole that will never fully heal. See you again in heaven someday, Jeff. - Chris Baum

“ Dear Geri, Murray, Doron, Daniel, Jessica, Austin and all of the family.

I am so sorry for your loss. The children and I will miss him dearly. We all loved Uncle Jeffrey so much and had so much fun with him. He went out of his way to see us as often as he could when we came to visit in Michigan this summer and made sure that we went together to Cedar Point - on those rollercoasters. We'll never forget how he loved to spend Shabbat meals with us and was very particular about which kosher food we were going to buy. The last time we saw him he was having brisket with us on Shabbat afternoon and giving us lots of hugs. Goodbye to a wonderful brother in law, uncle, from Sarah, Neshama, Yakov, Ariela, Nachshon, Tzofia and Elia. Jeffrey will always remain part of us forever.
