Joel was my uncle and although i never lived in the same state, some of my early childhood memories include visiting Detroit and Uncle Joel and Aunt Susan taking me to the beach Also having pizza for my first time ever with my aunt and uncle. Rest in peace Uncle Joel

“Joel was family to me. His mother was my Godmother. She had come to Detroit in the 1920s from Cleveland with my mother, who was her best friend to be secretaries. Thru the years there were so many parallels. Joel and I both lost our oldest siblings, his mothers home was decorated in the same style as my mom's and our families spent almost all holidays together. JOel told me that he always thought of my sister and I as sisters he never had.....we felt the that he was the brother we didn't have. Rest in peace Joel....you will be missed.....margo
