“ I always appreciated how present Granny was when we were speaking. Whether we were discussing South Haven, the books we were reading or what life was like before widespread technology as we know it, Granny was the type of woman who looked you in the eye and listened. It's not every day when you meet someone who makes others feel seen. I am grateful that I was able to spend this time with her over the last number of years. May her memory forever be a blessing.

Love,

Joyce was my friend. She and Sid welcomed me into their home on several special occasions, introduced me to their wonderful family, and treated me as though I was family. She was so proud of her children/grandchildren, always sharing stories about their accomplishments, and providing amazing detail about where they were living and what they were doing. For good reason, her family treated their parents/grandparents with such respect. Joyce was beautiful inside and out, always taking great care with her appearance. She had a "heart of gold." and will be missed.
