

JOYCE WECKSTEIN

April 8, 2015

Age 85, of Novi, died April 6, 2015.

A graduate of Central High School and Wayne State University, Joyce became a Physical Education teacher in the Detroit Public Schools. After raising her children, Joyce got hooked on racquetball, and went on to become a player and instructor, most notably at Franklin Fitness Center, where she also created and led the "Young at Heart" senior exercise program. Joyce is the author of two books on racquetball. She was known for her speedwalking five miles a day through the streets of Twyckingham, her long time Southfield neighborhood.

Joyce was a fixture at the Jewish Community Center as co chairperson of the Physical Education and Women's Health Club committees, co-leader of a JCC sponsored hiking trip to Israel, and Hospitality Chairperson for the Maccabi Games in 1984 and 1990. As ten year co-chair of the Special Needs committee, Joyce was the founding and twelve year co-chair of the West Bloomfield Community Fame Games. Joyce was a lifetime Honorary Board Member of the JCC.

The funeral service will be held at
HEBREW MEMORIAL CHAPEL
