“Lois ledger was one of the kindest, sweetest down-to-earth individuals I've met in my life's travels. She never had an unkind word about anybody, she was a wonderful cousin and human being, cheerful, always with a smile on her face. When my mother was I'll Louis came to visit her, my mother always enjoyed talking with Lois. I'm glad I ran into her about 2 years ago at the dollar store on the corner of Pontiac trail and Haggerty. I walked up to her and said hi Lois, she looked at me and said do I know you, I replied Neal Alpert, she smiled from ear to ear and gave me a wonderful hug. I have fond memories of Lois, Ronnie, Renee and David. May God comfort the family, cousins and Friends of Lois. Respectfully, Neal Alpert

“I have known Lois for a few years. She moved into Hechtman about the same time I started working there. She was such a wonderful person. She would drive residents to different places that they needed to get to. And if they ever didn't answer she would be calling me to go and check on them to make sure that they where ok. I would also she her doing her laundry every Sunday morning without fail. She would say it was the best time to do it because everyone liked to sleep in Sundays. I would she her all time hanging out in the lobby, movies, bingo and any time we had music she was there. Lois was a sweet kind and caring person who I am very happy to say that I knew. I will miss her greatly. But at least I still have the stories that we shared. May she find peace.

“ You were always more of a mom to me, even though I called you grandma. You'll never have any idea just how much you meant to me. Everything I am, and strive to be is because of you and all you taught and instilled in me. The purest, truest love I ever felt came from you and the never let go hugs. The person who never left my side when things were rough as a kid. My morals, sense of humor and my urge to always be a helpful person, a deal searcher and lover of kids is all because of you. You may be done with your journey here, and I'll miss you more than I can put into words. But seeing you in my dreams will help tide me over, until we can meet again. I promise, the next time we hug, I WILL NEVER LET GO. 💜💜

My sister Risa shared our sister Lois Ledger's testimonials of her life before laying Lois to rest. It was very warm and heartfelt. It was lovely being able to see as well as enjoy the love expressed for our sweet and wonderful sister Lois. I'm grateful to have spoken to her in recent weeks, always telling her I loved her. Rest in peace Lois. Love you forever Lois. Your baby sister Joyce.

Aunt Lois has been on my heart and mind so much these past weeks. I was consoled by watching her service just now. How I longed to be there that day with all of you. As I listened to the tributes I realized that my sweet Aunt Lois was just the kind of person whom I strive to become. I am sure, although we did not get to spend much more than a few visits together in my younger years, that her spirit of loving and caring for family, treasuring memories and family history lives in me. I'm grateful for those strong connections. Please know that you are all in my prayers and never are you far from my thoughts. I'm grateful for the chance to have witnessed her service in this way, since I could not be there with you in person. I'm sure that she is so proud and filled with love for all of you, especially now. As long as each of us lives as she did, by following her loving example, her memory will remain.

“ Thinking of you all today, esp David. I think the last time I saw Aunt Lois was probably at Hope's on the day of or day after Don's funeral.

May her memory bring you comfort and remind you of how absolutely deeply she loved you.

*Shalom,
Patti (my mom sends condolences and love as well)*
