“ I am so saddened to hear this sad news. Mr. Brown was my teacher for fifth and sixth grade at McGowan elementary school in Redford. He was the best teacher! I learned so much from him. We recently reconnected and got together for lunch a few times. We always talked about those elementary school days. Such delightful conversations every time. He even attended our 45th class reunion and saw some of his students. The expression on his face said it all. He w lunches as such a wonderful person and friend who enriched the lives of so many. He will be truly missed. My condolences to his family.

I as well had Mr Brown as my 6th grade teacher. Opera Club, chess Club. What an awesome teacher that truly cared about his students. I think of him often throw out my life. So many ways he helped to shape me in my life. I specifically asked to be placed in his class. He was one of the best teachers I ever had. He was so respected and loved by his students. Just like today, some of words came to mind. I am so sorry that I missed his celebration of life. Bless him and his family, as I know this is late, however, I so better in life to have known him, and learned so much from him. RIP. my friend. And thank you for every word of advice and the life you prepared every student for.

“ Condolences to Michael, Alissa and all the families. I was saddened to hear of Lou's sudden passing. Their bond was surely solidified by the countless games of ping pong. Of that I am sure :)

“ All of us here at the Royal Oak Antique Market are absolutely heart broken at Lou's passing. He has been a big part of our farmers market family every Sunday for many years, and a fixture here selling his albums and such. I personally have bought many a LIFE magazine from him. He will be sorely missed by us all, but will remain in our hearts forever. Our thoughts and prayers go out to his family and loved ones. Love and Peace.

“ I was very close to Lou's mother, Esther Brown she was a wonderful heroic woman. Lou was so kind and caring to her. She was so appreciative of her connection with his lovely family. May they all be comforted with the mourners of Tzion and Yerushalayim.

Lou was a friend of my parents. We celebrated holidays together with his family. He was at my college graduation party & held my huge cake and took a picture with me. He was always very funny and kind. He will be missed by my family. Rest In Peace Lou.

I taught with Louis at West Bloomfield High School for ten plus years. We taught the At-Risk Students and Louis was able to reach some of the most challenging students. He had a strong desire to make an impact on their lives. I just spoke with him at the Royal Oak Farmers Market several months ago, and I'm so glad I had that opportunity. I was able to tell him how successful he was with his students. He was always very upbeat and was just the way I remembered him. My thoughts and prayers are with Michael and Alissa and their families. He was very proud of his two children and spoke of them often. God Bless and may he Rest In Peace. Marianne Roze
