“ It’s painful for me to process the fact that you’re gone, Mara. A beautiful soul has been taken from us at a time when your light is needed the most. The day you passed, I went on a hike with a new friend who shares the same name as you. When I first met her, I told her that I have a good friend named Mara, and I smiled when I thought of you.

It’s hard for me to speak about you in the past tense, because your spirit is so bright - I still feel your warmth, especially as I run through some of our favorite conversations in my mind. While I struggle to come to terms with this immense and heavy loss, I do know this: I’m so grateful for the gift of your life! I’m thankful to you for blessing everyone you came across here on earth with your free-flowing kindness and sense of one-ness. While you were here, you loved, and that’s what we’re called to do, isn’t? Your family and friends were everything to you, and you’re everything to us. I hope you know that you were and are so very loved in return. Rest easy and be at peace, my dear friend. I will forever and always miss you — I promise to hold on close to the memories and live out your legacy of love.

“ Beautiful Mara, you were such a blessing. Thank you for being such a great friend. I am so grateful to have connected on our first day at Columbia and went on so many adventures soon after. Thank you for taking me to my first Shabbat and being such a loving person. I will never forget you and will always love you.

“ To the Whole Israel/Weinbaum Families,

Words cannot begin to express how devastated we were to hear about Mara's passing. Her smile always lit up a room and her exuberant personality drew everyone to her. May the memories you cherish of her bring you consolation. May you be comforted amongst the mourners of Tzion and Yerushalayim. Know that she is at peace now, close and cared for by those who went before her. May Hashem watch over your whole family and may you know no further sorrow. “ Dear Marcie, Ashley, Rayn, Ron, Josh, Rachel and Emma,
I am deeply sorry for the loss of your beloved daughter and sister.
Mara was a beautiful soul, witty, and caring. It is unfair to lose her at such a young age. But I am blessed to have known her and shared many memories with her. May her memory be a blessing to us all and may she rest in peace.

“ I will always treasure having Mara as my student at Hillel. But my fondest memories of Mara are when I visited with her in shul on Rosh Hashanah each year when I come home from New York.
These last two years have prevented that and I did not know that she was so sick. Mara was one of the kindest, sweetest people I have known. I am so sad that she has passed, but her memory will always be bright and a blessing for all who knew her. Wishing your entire family comfort!

“ *Mara was a simple and sunny girl. Although I didn't speak English well she tried to communicate with me in all ways. When she came to Rome was always a joy for me and my family. Even though we didn't talk often, I knew that somehow we were united by a special friendship. Mara will always remain in my heart and she will always be my heroine. “ So sorry for your loss 🥺 I had the pleasure of meeting Mara a couple months ago at a friends bday dinner in Fort Lauderdale. She was so sweet, friendly, engaging, curious, polite, thoughtful of other people and really made an impact despite our short encounter. My sister and I took an immediate liking to her and adopted her as our third sister for the evening! We ate, went bar hopping, talked, danced, talked some more and really had a blast getting to know her. Such a beautiful soul and what a light she had and I sadly only knew her for a couple of hours... she helped me out the next day with something for work. May her memory be for a blessing !
