“ Dear family of "Marty" as I used to call him. I owe so much to this man, who gave me my first break in my chosen career. He mentored me, encouraged me, and allowed me to expand my skills. I regret not seeing Marty in the many past years, although I did have dinner with him last year, and had planned on getting together just before the virus hit.

He was an innovative technical genius, a generous man, and a wonderful mentor.

I am saddened by his death.
