“ We drove up from Somerset, Ky. and bought cars from Marvin. There was a German fellow who worked for him would fix us bagles. We didnt know what they were. They called us Hillbillys. This was in the late 70s. Another fellow worked for the city and would check out cars and buy for Marvin. His name was Charlie Brown. My father would go up once a week and buy at Luckys. Bob Drake at Four Lane Auto Sales. Marvin would say come out here Bob you can make a grand off this one. Marvin was a very nice Dealer. He worked a concession booth at the Silverdome for his Church
