“ Mr. Weiss was a very special and revered man in our community. He was passionate about telling his Holocaust history and wanted people to know the importance of Holocaust remembrance so that it will hopefully never happen again.. Michael will be sorely missed. His biography can be seen in Portraits of Honor: Our Michigan Holocaust Survivors.

Michael was a tremendous Ohev Yisroel, and an Ohev Ess Habriyos - he cared very much for every fellow Jew, as well as all of mankind. To hear Michael recite the Mi Shebeyrach prayer for the sick, was a spiritual experience. To hear him speak about the Holocaust was to hear a sermon about the value of human life. He leaves behind a special family, dedicated to Torah and Mitzvos, and devoted to perpetuating his message about how priceless our human lives are. Y'hi Zichro Boruch! HaMakom Yenacheym Esschem Bsoch Shear Aveiley Tziyon v'Yerushalayim.

“ It was my privilege to work closely with Michael Weiss at the Holocaust Center. We had a wonderful conversation while driving to one of his popular speaking engagements at a school in Commerce. When Michael spoke...people listened. His story was always told with such passion that he swept up audiences of every age. I was honored to be his special guest at an Orthodox observance at the Center, and greatly enjoyed assisting with an early draft of his book. We discussed every topic under the sun, and each time, I walked away a little wiser for having been his student. May his memory be as a blessing and may it stand as an ongoing inspiration to all his life touched.
