“ Mike was an engaging and generous man and an unforgettable neighbor -- I'll never forget how after I got out of college and was really in need he gave me a job working at his wholesale business. He worked at a frenetic pace but he gave us a lot of freedom as long as we got the job done. He will be missed.

“ I'm stunned and saddened to learn of Mikes passing. Rebecca and I send our condolences to his wife and kids as well as his entire family and friends. I know they are numerous. I have not been close to Mike since our junior high days when he walked to school with my sister Sherry and I, in Oak Park. We kept in touch on FB for the last several years. Mike was the guy that always had the latest and greatest stuff. Whether it was the latest 45, album, gadget or tickets to an event. He was always very informative, generous and a genuinely nice guy. I will treasure his memory.

“ Our sincere condolences on hearing this terrible news via the grapevine. I lost track of Mike after leaving Huntington Woods some years ago. Rhonda and I both remember though, a kind and generous man who helped during a particularly difficult time in our lives - Mike. Our prayers are with you all during this difficult time.

“ I lived next door to Mike in Huntington Woods for many years. You couldn't ask for a more kind, generous & animated neighbor. He was always willing to share a tool, invite you to a dinner party or offer friendly advice.

Like ... "the best Mitzvah was giving blood". (He did it regularly)

Mike's pontifications usually began, "Can I tell you something"... After carefully listening, I would often forget what I came over to borrow? You see, Mike's garage had everything one needed. It was a virtual Hardware, Cell-Phone, & RC-Toy Store. He fixed my daughter's cell phone in minutes and would not accept payment. Mike had a heart of gold.

One day we decided to cut a tree down together with chain saws -- what a slapstick comedy show that was -- Mike never stopped offering "how to do it" advice. Our wives, Janice & Heidi couldn't stop laughing.

Every Halloween, Mike's decorations grew larger. They lit up 1/2 our street and attracted a bunch of trick-or-treaters. Many beers would be shared.

Hey Mike, my new neighbors are pretty normal, quiet & boring. No dogs barking, no business phone calls in the driveway. We miss the chaos, the fun & friendship. You were a unique, passionate, loving soul, which nobody on earth can compare.

Thank you for the memories & friendship

Awww... thanks Craig. He cherished our friendship so much. Your bike rides into the city, Halloween eves where we went back and forth between our houses and Dave's and John's with drinks in hand.

“ I was not able to make it to the service in person, though I was grateful to watch the live stream. I remember Mike always asking about my day or checking in on life whenever he saw me at Beth Shalom or around town. I remember one Halloween Party when I was very young, he showed all the kids how to dunk for apples. He had a way of making a person feel included. He was always genuine and kind in connecting with others.

Condolences to the family, he will be missed.

“ Mike and my husband, Arie, met at the Woodward Shul and that was the beginning of their friendship. Arie had a lot of medical problems through the years and Mike was there for him, caring and helping. And when Arie died last year Mike was very supportive of me and it was most appreciated. During one of the shivas, he led the service. Their relationship was a mitzvah and will forever be remembered!

“ I have known Mike and Janice for over 40 years. I was at their wedding. Mike was a loyal friend, treated his closest friends like family, and would give the shirt off his back, if necessary to help others. Baruch Dayan Emet: G-d is the true Judge. He only chooses certain people to die instantly, because the Holiest should not suffer. And that he was! Now he is with his best friend, Rob. And they can put on Tefillin together and party together! He will be missed by many, and was loved by many more.

“ Hey Mike!! Its been 3 days since I have spoken to you. It feels empty without you. We have known each other 6 years, almost at the beginning of Covid, closing deals and losing many deals but always up for the next. Every day we have spoken at least 6,7,8 times a day, when did you have time to speak to everyone else??? The only days I didn't get to speak to you was on the Sabbath, however yesterday, something strange happened, I get woken up at 9am by a phone call, I look over to see the CALLER ID, and its a "MIKE". Imagine my reaction half asleep, My wife says you were calling me through another MIKE to tell me "go to SHUL, your late!!".

We spoke of so many different topics, religion, politics, life, so many stories shared, however the most amazing story just happened, as I am trying to reach out to Janice to find out your Hebrew name and your mother Hebrew name(Sephardic custom, forgot you were Ashkenaz for a minute, so I should have asked for yoru dads name instead). Channah Leah(yoru mom), how in the world did we miss that. Channah is my mother and daughter and Lea is my wife, what the heck. It was meant to be for us to share these wonderful 6 years together. We fought, we argued, we reconciled, like 2 brothers, yes you were like an older brother to me, even "if you agree to disagree"

I could go on and on there isn't enough words, to express my sadness.

We have lost a very good friend, brother, business partner, and an amazing straight up person in business and in all aspects of life. We should all learn from him and strive to be the gentleman that he was and the code of ethics he held by.

May he rest in peace, looking down upon us, protecting us from all manners of evil.

May his family find peace and may is SOUL rest in GAN EDEN!!

Amen Amen Amen

“ I still cannot believe Mike is gone. My sincere condolences go out to Janice, Megan, and his family. I talked to Mike just about every day for 38 years. Well, wait—he did most of the talking, and every once in a while I could speak, lol. Mike loved to talk. In fact, if you knew Mike, you know that when he would call you, you’d pick up the phone, say hello, and Mike would just start talking. Then, at the end of the call, Mike would just hang up. No goodbye, no “talk to you later”—just click, and he was gone, lol.

On just about every conference call we had—and we had thousands—you could count on Mike saying, “Can I say something?” or “Can I interject?” There was one time I remember when we were having a hard time closing a deal, and there goes Mike: “Can I say something?” Lol. The CEO of the large company says, “Please, please don’t.” Everyone on the call laughed very hard, including Mike, and somehow that was what broke the ice and we closed the deal.

If you knew Mike, you also know he loved his wife, his daughter, his family, his dogs, his religion, old rock music, and he loved to give advice and loved to debate. That is what made Mike unique and built him a network of good friends—and also not-so-good friends, lol—worldwide. But throughout his life, he was one person lots of people, including myself, could trust, and we all knew he was honest and a good man that meant well and touched many lives.

I am still in shock that my business associate and friend of 38 years is gone. RIP, Mike. You will always be remembered by the thousands of people we came to know over the years, and you will never be forgotten. Everyone has a good story to remember Mike by.

Mike sent me Facebook friend requests for decades, and I always told him I did not use Facebook. But every few months, there was another request, and I just ignored it again—just to aggravate him lol. Well, a few days ago I accepted his final request, as he was a truly great friend.

“Mike was truly an old-timer in the best sense of the word—a seasoned businessman whose experience was matched only by his wisdom and integrity. Whether a deal was being closed or simply discussed, Mike never reduced people to numbers or transactions. He always took the time to listen, to advise, and to guide, treating everyone first and foremost as a person, not a profit.

What set him apart was not only his success in business, and opening doors for all without seeing color, race or economic background but his willingness to share his knowledge. His advice was given generously, thoughtfully, and with genuine concern for the people he spoke to. That kind of mentorship leaves a lasting imprint—one that goes far beyond contracts, negotiations, or financial outcomes, something our younger generation could really use.

He carried himself with quiet authority, respect, and humanity. In an industry often driven by urgency and self-interest, he remained grounded, principled, and deeply human. His presence will be missed, but his lessons, values, and example will continue to live on through those he influenced.

Please accept my heartfelt sympathies during this difficult time. May you find comfort in the legacy he leaves behind and in the many lives he touched along the way.

“ Shocked & Heartbroken. Michael was full of life and big-hearted. He let everyone know how much he loved his family. He gave to others, to friends, and to strangers, and was active in the Jewish Community. Our families met when our kids were in kindergarten together in Huntington Woods & we have stayed connected. We shared in the celebrations of those same kids' weddings. Janice & Michael always opened their home to us and others for holidays and other celebrations. We've shared many Shabbat meals together there, here & at Jewish Ferndale. Mike still occasionally got my husband to go with him to the shvitz. This is a pic from 11 years ago on New Year's of my husband, Michael & Mike's friend Phil (also in heaven). Steve & I send our condolences out to Janice, Meghan, Zack, the baby, Mike's mom & siblings, and all who loved him... Ivy

“ My friendship with Mike started in 1978 when we were both managers at Arby’s.

We met our future wives soon after this time and worked together again at Salad Man. Mike, Janice and I had a lifetime of experiences together. Through the years and life’s ups and downs Mike was a loyal friend. Mike met every challenge in life with determination, energy and enthusiasm.

Our deepest condolences to Janice, Meghan and the entire family. Rest in Peace Mike. I am grateful to have traveled through the years as your friend.

“ This news was such a shock. I only knew Mike for around 1 year but in that time we became friends. We talked everyday about life and about deals. Mike was a very hard worker and an impressive salesman. Mike was an extremely honest person and didnt let anyone take advantage of him or his friends. Mike loved his family and talked about them often. I had a chance to meet Mike a few months back when we visited Canada together. We had some good laughs on that trip. I will miss Mike's daily calls and my heart and prayers go out to his family and friends.

“ Our family has known Micheal and his family for over 30 years. Our daughter Alana went to Beth Shalom Hebrew School with their daughter. Risa and I enjoyed many years of celebrations in their Huntington Woods home.

Most recently we reunited at The Woodward Avenue Shule. Over the years we have grown very close. This is a very hard loss for me. Risa and I cannot talk about Micheal in the past. His love for Janice, Meghan and her family showed. He would share his great times with his granddaughter. He also shared his happiness with upcoming simchas.

My bond with Micheal will never end. There will be a forever void, in my life, without Micheal in it. Going to services at The Woodward Avenue Shule will never be the same. All my Torah studies will be dedicated to him. He always invited Risa and I to Jewish Ferndale events. He was so happy every time we would see him.

Micheal was a true friend, husband, father and grandfather. Risa & I will miss him very much. We know that he is going to the best part of heaven.

“ Micheal was a part of our life for three decades. Since Micheal left CBS in Oak Park My husband Marv and I met him regularly at The Mobil station on Maple and Adams as we all lived in the area in Birmingham. I will always remember the house in Huntington Woods at which time we celebrated Sukkot with Micheal and Janice. Finally, it was Micheal who contacted me to inform me of the death of a mutual friend for whom we both shared a longstanding friendship and whom we both lived. Too soon to leave us, Micheal. May your soul rest in eternal peace and may your memory be for a blessing.

“ This news is absolutely shocking and heartbreaking. I still can't believe that someone I spoke to just yesterday is no longer with us. I have known him for 27 years, not just as a business partner, but as a mentor, a true friend, and like an elder brother.

He was someone we learned from every day. His wisdom, guidance, and kindness left a deep mark on all of us who had the privilege to know him. He always had time to listen, to advise, and to help, and his presence brought calm and clarity in both business and life.

We already miss him more than words can express. The void he has left behind can never be filled. My heartfelt condolences to his family and loved ones. May his soul rest in peace and May God give patience and strength to all those he has left behind.

He will always be remembered with love, respect, and gratitude.

I was so shocked to hear the news of Michael's passing.. I have known him all my life, and since I moved to Los Angeles (1984), I had pretty much lost contact with him. I am so glad that when I went to Detroit last year for my mother's funeral, we were able to catch up with Michael over at David's house. It was a great night and I was happy to see Michael was still Michael, Still a great guy, he looked great and reminded me so much of his father. My condolences to his wife Janice, and daughter Meghan, His brothers, and all his friends and family, RIP Michael - Lori Allen
