“ Sad news for me. Barry and I were placed together 70 years ago in the 1st grade class of Rabbi Berel Moskowitz (OBM). He became a dear friend and classmate. The Schwartz's and Ulrych's shared many experiences in those early years, some very happy, some not so much. In recent years, I didn't see very much of Barry but, when we crossed paths, we would embrace and realize that the bonds going back to childhood were unbreakable--even by death. May his pure neshama have an aliyah and may he, with his beautiful voice, serve as a meilitz yosher for Klal Yisroel. Tommy Schwartz

“ I ran into Barry and Mo several months ago at the neighborhood Seforim store on Greenfield. If only we knew that a particular unplanned crossing of paths is going to be the last time that we have a conversation! How carefully we would create that exchange. Our most heartfelt sentiments to Hannah and Mo. May you be consoled by the Almighty amongst the mourners of Zion and Jerusalem.

“ Dear Hannah and Moe, my heart goes out to you on the passing of your dear brother, Barry. I remember those days in Detroit when you lived around the block from us and we would share Shabbat lunches together at your home. He was a wonderful man and whenever I bumped into him he always asked about my family and Zygi. Lots of wonderful memories. Please accept my sincerest condolences at this difficult time.

“ It is interesting that dear Barry would pass during the 9 days leading to Tisha B'Av when we lost the Holy Temple. I recall Barry teaching during one of our Adat Shalom Synagogue Shabbat Torah Studies on the subject "The Mishkan as a Paradigm and Template for Generosity, Participation, Jewish Excellence in Design, Attentiveness To Detail, and Spiritual Continuity under Challenging Circumstances..." Those were his words and Barry was actually the embodiment of all those things. We commemorate the loss of our Holy Temple this week and we will say farewell to our holy Barry this week. May his soul rest in peace.

“ Our hearts go out to you Hannah & Moe during this difficult time of the passing of your dear brother and our dear cousin Barry. He was a kind person who shared a special closeness to both family and friends. He also inspired a love of Torah and Chazonos in all who met him. May you always find comfort in the special cherished memories you shared. Barry will be deeply missed.

What memories of walking home from Shabbat services at Adat Shalom on Curtis in Detroit - and the good old USY days together! We met and talked in later years,too, but now I am deeply saddened with you by this loss. Barry was a complete mensch and you, Hannah and Moe, have been wonderful siblings! May HaShem comfort you and may you feel the love and warmth of all who care for you and for dear Barry, may his neshama rest in peace, in Hashem's care.Love, Doris(Dorit) Seligson-Edut
