“ Robert was my best friends growing up in Mt. Clemens. We lived only a block away from each other and enjoyed our teenage days doing the things that two boys did in those days. My close friendship with Robert extended to his parents (Lou & Rose) and sisters (Judy & Leah). I can still remember the night we pushed his dad's car down their side street to take it for a "little ride", then got pulled over by the police for not having the car's lights on. Of course, Robert had me switch places with him in the front seat because he did not have his drivers license yet. I left Mt. Clemens in 1961 to join the U.S. Navy and a life in Washington D. C. Our close friendship continued to include my short visits with Robert during vacations back to Mt. Clemens to visit my parents. After Robert left Michigan and moved to Southern California, I would always visit with him when my Navy civilian career took me to San Diego on business trips and he lived just up the coast in Irvine. i LOVE YOU and will miss you. My sincere condolences to his family.
