“ My name is Tony and I physically never met Sean but shared Years of chats with him online and helped him for Years with his online Business. I can state that it was a shock to find this out and that there are many who are feeling this thru-out the Community of which Sean was a part of online.

Sean was a friendly polite and courteous person to deal with and we will all miss him. My prayers and condolences goes out to the Family. I listen to the Eulogy of his cousin and I could not agree more Sean was a professional giver. He was always there for me in the 9 Years that we associated online and I will miss having him around to chat with when I an down.

RIP my friend, may God have you in his everlasting glory.

“ Sean I will always love you bro. My heart breaks to know that we've lost you. I will never forget that of all people, you were always there to listen. When others had forsaken me and turned their backs to me you'd pull me up off the ground, no matter the situation. Thank you for 27 years of being my best friend and one of the most honorable and loyal people one could ever know; always a man of your word. No matter the time between seeing or speaking to each other we always picked up where we left off. If I ever needed a laugh on a bad day, advice or just talk about the weather I knew who to call. I have no words to say what I feel right now other than wished we had more time together because what we had certainly wasn't enough. You were the brother I never had and will always be grateful for the times we shared. Rest in peace brother,

ME

“ Most of my memories of Sean are of him teasing me. And I’m sure I deserved it as an annoying little girl who was always at his house. But I also remember him being a super smart and loving son and big brother who looked out for his friends and family. Thanks to Sean I learned how to ride a bike without training wheels. He pushed me on my red two-wheeler down Savoie Trail over and over until I was finally able to pedal on my own. I’ll never forget his patience with me that day.

“ Our beloved Seanny Boy, you will forever be in our hearts, mind and soul to the day we see you again up in heaven. Rest our sweet boy for you feel no pain now. Your dogs are in good hands by wonderful friends and all else will be taken care of for you. You have taught us so much about bravery, survival, and love of family and life and many other things will never be forgotten.

It would take eternity to tell you how much we love you.

You will always be covered with our warmth, and affection no matter where you are so do not be afraid as your soul rises up to be with your grandparents and others that love that have passed.

Momma, Dad and Marce, Mason, all your Aunts, Uncles and cousins that will miss you forever.
