My first thought was that casket isn't big enough for Sherry. Her personality could fill a room. I have so many fond memories of her and her girls. The way she always hugged and cared how you were doing. I learned from her grace. Rembering how her and her family always showed me grace, I've tried to show that to others in my own life. Thank you Sherry for being such a wonderful edition to our family and an example of strength and love.

“ I would like to express my condolences to Jim, Nicki, her children and grandchildren. Unfortunately, I was in California when she passed and during the funeral. I was amazed that Sherry made me her special friend. She showed it by daily prayer for my husband's health with his new kidney. She was generous in spirit and actions. Her family meant everything to her. Sherry was a devoted part of our Holy Women's group. Always giving, she would arrive at our classes with kosher pastries and brimming with energy. I love how she had a strong mind of her own that crossed religions, customs, and friendships. She had very loving memories of the children she taught, and her book collection. I am praying that her loved ones will be able to continue with her zest for life, her goodness and her faith in a brighter future. God bless you all. I share your sadness.

“ Sherry and Jim were our classmates at Cass technical high school and we saw one another over the years as we planned for and attended our reunions. 61 years later, we remember Sherry. May her memory be for a blessing.
