“ We loved being around Woody. He always had a positive outlook and cheery stories to tell especially about politics. A loving father and husband and a very proud grandpa. Rest in peace Woody.

“ Woody was one of a kind, a true intellectual whose search for knowledge and understanding was lifelong. His love for Michigan football always led to preseason questions about what their record would be that season. A truly memorable patient who always had a twinkle in his eyes regardless of how he was feeling. May his memory be a blessing to all who were lucky enough to know him. T. Reid Kavieff, D.O.

“ This from Kathleen Straus and Walter Shapero-we Fondly and particularly remembering Woody and his effective work with AJC And with his pal Jack Faxon-quite a memorable teaching pair Who for their students and many others were always there Both of whom spent less time making suggestions And more time asking important and evocative questions.

“Woody welcomed me when I moved to Detroit in 1989 and paved the way for my own journey with the AJC. I enjoyed our occasional lunches and check ins. His great love for his family and for Detroit and the Jewish community were expressed during all of our interactions. May his memory be a blessing.

“Woody was my Hebrew teacher at Temple Bethel in the early 60s. We staged our version of the Kennedy Nixon debate during class. We then reunited when he was executive director of AJC. He was always positive and a great mentor. He made great contributions to my growth.

“What a great man, Sherwood Sandweiss was a friend to all! My father (Leonard Milstone) met him over 40 years ago while they were both teaching. I spoke with him many times over the years, about politics, life, and just anything. My father would have hour long discussions with him on politics, and many things. He will always be a cherished friend and left so many great memories. The Milstone family.

We shared an office in the basement of Brown Hall at Wash U in StL 1963-66 and remained in contact over the years. He always claimed he learned more from me during our friendship than from most of his like-minded fellow-travelers--I can assure you, the learning was mutual. I will miss him greatly.
