“ My sincerest condolences on the loss of your husband and father. My brothers and I grew up with Stuart, David and Monica. Our fathers, Jerry Silbert and Joe (Manela) were partners in business and lifelong friends who survived the Holocaust. Our families, as well as many other Holocaust survivors and their children grew up together, and celebrated many simchas together. Sadly, I have lost touch over the years with Stuart, David and Monica, and others, but have wonderful memories of our family celebrations. Stuart was exactly one month older than me! Our parents loved all of us like we were theirs, and I will always cherish the times we had growing up. My heartfelt sympathy and condolences. May Stuart's memory forever be a blessing.

“ My most heartfelt condolences to all of Stuart's family and friends... Karin, Jared, Jordan & Chad, as well as his brother David & his sister Monica. I'm was gobsmacked when I learned of my old "Bro's" passing late yesterday; and cannot get him out of my thoughts. We met the summer just after each of us had been Bar Mitzvah'ed (May 1969, as we were born only 4 days apart!). We became thick as thieves and remained so for decades! We even grew up on the same street, my house in Beverly Hills (Birmingham) & Stu's in Southfield... only 4 blocks apart. We traveled together, laughed and cried together through the joys and turmoil of growing up from young men to responsible adults. We even stood up for one another at our respective weddings. We actually each got married exactly 1 year apart...to the day (mine in 1980, Stu & Karin's in 1981)!! Sadly we drifted apart and lost touch... but he was often on my mind & always in my heart. I loved him, and have missed his infectious zest for life, his smile and his "belly laugh", not to mention his wit and great sense of humor.

I always thought there'd be time to reconnect. Sadly, that wasn't meant to be. Now I have immense regrets, sadness as well lots of "Jewish Guilt". Lesson learned... don't put off reconnecting with those you've cared for and lost touch with, cause you could just be too late. It is with such a heavy heart that I write these thoughts down to share... but upon reflections, I have a twinkle in my eye and a big smile on my face recalling our fondest s, joys and adventures we shared so long ago. None the less, I'm still struggling through my regrets and grief. Stuart Jay Silbert... God Speed to you my dear old friend. Rest in Peace... Shalom my brother... hopefully we'll meet again on the "other side".

I also wish to offer my most sincere condolences to the entire Silbert family including but not limited to Karin, Jared, Jordan, Chad, Monica, and David. Like Bruce, I was in shock when I received the news of Stuart's passing. Stuart and I were also best of friends when we were younger. We went to high school together. We were at each others houses so often, that we thought of each others parents as our second family. We spent many weekend nights during high school out together, often with our respective dates. We ended up at "Hojo's" many a weekend night. We went to many concerts together. We worked on the high school plays together. He got me involved in that...a wonderful memory. He stood up at my wedding to Ellen. I lived at his house for a month, just before my wedding. I moved away to go to medical school, and we lost touch for many years. I reached out to Stuart 4-5 years ago, and we rekindled our friendship. Since then, we talked, texted, and emailed each other fairly frequently. We shared pictures of our children. I loved to see him and Karin when I visited Detroit. I loved hearing about his kids. I cried when I read Bruce's regrets about not reconnecting, and I at the same time was happy that I had done so. Stuart was a special human being. His big laugh was unmistakable. He was selfless. Always cared more about others than himself. A great roll model for others to emulate. I will always miss my "Bro"...the same as Bruce. I will always have Stuart in my heart. G-d bless you my friend. Please rest in peace. I miss you, and hope to see you again when it is my time to join you in heaven. With a heavy heart, Jeffrey Gitt
