Dear Cousin Laurie, I am not sure if I ever met your dear mum, Sue, z'l but I certainly heard a lot about her and her sister Charlotte when I was a child. My late Grandmother, Elsie spoke very fondly of them both frequently and we always heard about Sue and the American family. I send you my very best wishes and long life to the family and hope memories of Sue are always blessings and comfort to you and all the family. Much love, Cousin Debra, England. Xxx

“ So sorry for your loss. Aunt Sue was special, so sweet to us Ratner kids. Always positive, and obviously very strong and steady. Without doubt the biggest dog-lover in the family.

What can you say about a woman who supported you unconditionally, who was always accessible with words of comfort and wisdom and who made you into the person that you are today?

My mother was very much like her own mother in that she was no pushover. But she was also someone who never criticised, never gossiped and never spoke badly about anyone (after Trump supporters stormed the Capital, she said about Trump "well, he could have been a little more gracious.")

I don't think that she ever really forgave anyone because she never held a grudge....if someone offended her, she had forgotten it long before any forgiving needed to be done.

I have so many life lessons that I learned from her, not because she "taught" them but because she lived them.
