“ You only need to look at Sylvia's smile to know she didn't let the world change her. She shared the common values of the greatest generation: duty, honor, country, personal responsibility, the marriage vow and a talent to enjoy life. Sylvia was always young in the pursuit of her passions. I loved talking to her when she visited her daughter Gail Handler in Atlanta. Like her mother, Gail likes to cook for people. On one visit, Sylvia and Gail used a vertical poultry roaster in the oven to evenly roast chicken or turkey. It was delicious. I had never seen such a thing. Shortly after Sylvia returned to MA, I received one from her in the mail. I cherish my visits with Sylvia and send my heartfelt sympathy to the family at this sad time of loss.

“ Baruch Dayan Ha'Emet. I hadn't seen Mrs. Handler since my college days, but I will be forever grateful for the kindness and warm hospitality she showed me during that time. A devoted wife, a wonderful mother, a caring sister, and an amazing cook, Mrs. Handler was the epitome of grace. Her memory will certainly continue to be a blessing to all of us fortunate to have known her.

“ I had the privilege of hanging out at the Handler home as a teenager, and Sylvia was one of the kindest and sweetest people I have ever had the pleasure to have known. She always made Risa's friends feel like her own children, and taking to Len and her was a treat. My heart goes out to Risa and Gail and Larry and the boys, may you mom's memory be forever a blessing. Virtual hugs,
