“ Wes and I became good friends at work. One of the special memories I can share is that Wes always enjoyed new adventures. As a avid metal detector enthusiast, I convince him to buy a metal new detector. Our first time out was a hot day at a local park. I told him to dress lite before heading out. He shows up with a backpack, black shirt/socks and a big straw hat! He quickly realized that this hobby is not easy. I said, "dude you will overheat"! In 2 hours, he found 15 cents! His days of detecting quickly came an abrupt end. I will surely miss Wes and I am glad I got to know him. He was a gentle soul and cared for his friends. Rest in peace my friend...

“ I’ve had the pleasure of working with Wes for the past four years or so, much of that time spent talking about anything and everything. Our favorite was music. His depth and breadth of knowledge was a constant resource for me. He was always quick with a fact or story. Always ready with a recommendation. He exposed me to lots of different artists and I did my best to do the same for him (he never took to Outkast as much as I wanted!). He was nice enough to share with me some of his family history, including an opportunity to read a book about his father’s experience in the Holocaust. To read something personally connected to someone I knew was very special. Wes is very much missed here at The Club and I’ll always be grateful for the time I got to spend with him. Rest In Peace my friend.

“ Wes and I grew up across the street from each other. When we were little kids we were kind of rivals and would hit little rocks at each other from across the street with tennis rackets. :-) When we got a little older we were friends. We both worked at jcpenny at Northland and we were in B’nai Brith youth together. Our chapter was Einstein and we called ourselves the Einstein Aces. Squeeze was an Ace! Wesley’s friend Tim gave him the nick name Squeeze and it stuck. One of the all time best nick names ever! I informed some of our fellow Aces about Squeeze and they were sad. Howard Rothenberg, Geoff Gordon, and Harry Glanz. They all agreed, Once an Ace always an Ace! Your memory is blessed my brother. You enriched all who knew you with your gentle soul and your love of music.

“ I have know Wesley since grade school. We were on the same little league team and became good friends all throughout high school. Wes used to visit me at Michigan State often. We also spent a lot of time on my visits home playing pool, going to Greek town, and just hanging out having fun. We had very similar interests musically, wes played the guitar and I the piano. We also attended quite a few concerts together at pine knob while in high school and college.

As adults, Wesley moved to California some years later. I assisted him getting settled and familiar with the area. I invited him to stay with me and my family in my home, got him employment at my place of work to get him on his feet. Wesley later moved further south to Orange County where he lived . We always kept in touch and he always knew that I was there to reach out to.

Many people did not really understand Wesley. He was a very kind down to earth man. I am going to miss him very much as even though we did not see each other that much in recent years, we often had very enjoyable conversations with a lot of laughs. We were like extended family towards one another. It is sad to see that he has left us at such a young age. Wesley, please rest in peace as I will meet up with you again in eternity. G-d bless your soul as you watch over Marissa. We all will miss you.

“ I will miss Wes. I'll miss regular phone conversations, visiting him in California, talking politics, playing tennis, doing Krav Maga. Having a good, kind friend.
Rest in peace friend!

“ Wes and I have been friends for 60+ years now because our Mom's were best friends before we were born. He always helped me see both sides of a situation without ever judging my decisions. Yes, he was right most of the time. Please don't tell him I said that 😳. Wes has and always will be a true friend to me who holds a special place in my heart. Our combined witty and crazy antics would always inspire each other to laugh. I'm missing that and our regular calls but luckily have an infinite amount of great memories to look back and enjoy for eternity. You can finally rest-in-peace,. I miss you buddy. 😭

You said it so concisely. Wes often did more to help and console others than helping himself. That's just who he was.

I was Wes's manager at The Rancho Niguel Rec Club/Seabreeze Management and so enjoyed working with him. He was so friendly, nice and professional with our members. The staff/team and myself will miss him very much.
