“ I knew Yuval for only a very short time, the wedding week when his and Beverly’s daughter married my youngest son. I lament that I won’t have more time to get to know the man who is the father to such an incredible young lady. I’m sure that his character is reflected in my wonderful daughter-in-law, so I feel it is safe to say the world has lost a unique, intellectual man. I wish there would be more family get-togethers where we could sit outdoors and chat like we did on the university park block last June, but I am so thankful that Yuval and Beverly gifted our family with their amazing daughter. Yuval, you will live on through her!

“ Bev and family, my sincere condolences. I only met Yuval when I visited you, but he made a wonderful impression. May his memory be a blessing to you.

“ Dear Beverly, To you and your beloved family, my deepest sympathy for your profound loss. It was such a moving funeral service. I did not really know Yuval well though I knew him from T'chayah years ago. I learned so much about him from the beautiful eulogy. My most recent fondest memory is your visit to T'chayah on more than one occasion some years ago with your parents, devoted T'chayah members for decades, who could not travel to us by themselves anymore. We still miss your parents and talk about them often. On Yom Kippur, when it was time to speak the names of those we lost, your dad always talked emotionally about his community that he lost decades ago. I can still picture him speaking those words. I wish you and your family comfort in your circle of love and support. With warmest regards, Roz Schindler

“ My good old friend, Yuval, passed at sunset. He did it peacefully and on his own terms. A man of principles. Always was. I already miss learning from you about Middle Ages history and philosophy. Arguing with you about things we both know nothing about, and about things at least one of us is an expert on.
I will miss your friendship of over 35 years. I will simply miss you.
